

The Chameleon by Merrick Rosenberg

Book Club Discussion Guide

Take Flight Learning

If the fables were turned into a sitcom and you were selected to play one of the bird characters, which bird would you would play? In other words, which bird are you?

<input type="checkbox"/> Eagle	<input type="checkbox"/> Parrot	<input type="checkbox"/> Dove	<input type="checkbox"/> Owl
---------------------------------------	--	--------------------------------------	-------------------------------------

What was your favorite fable? How does that fable resonate in your life? Can you share a specific example?

Spring The New Addition The Sparrow's Nest The Spinning Wind The Crystal Cave Hatching Day Surprise Summer A Trip to the Beach The Speech The Lost Bird Department The Forbidden Swamp Summer Festival	Fall Spontaneity Day Squirrel! Observation Week Flight of the Groundhog The Storm of all Storms Winter Mudslide The Northern Squirrels Winter Camp Lost in Translation The Magic Rock
--	---

While each of the fables taught different lessons about personality style, what do you believe is the overall theme of the book?

Summarize your greatest learning from the book.

What is the secret to being a wise chameleon?

What will you do differently at work because of a lesson you learned in the book?

How can you apply Chameleon Wisdom to improve a key relationship in your life?
